CADETS' SENSATIONAL RALLY IN LAST QUARTER WAS TOO MUCH FOR VARSITY

Newcomers in Senior League Made Great Showing

BARWIS KICKED R.M.C. TO VICTORY IN LAST MINUTE

Cochrane and Brownfield Also Starred for Soldiers—Gage Played For Varsity

With a sensational rally in the dying moments of the game, R. M. C. managed to nose out Varsity on the Queen's A. Grounds on Saturday. The game, which ushered in the football season at Kingston, was replete with startling plays and spectacular tackling. There was quite a large crowd present and near the close of the match the excitement was intense. The sky was overcast and there was a strong south wind blowing down the field.

Barwis and Cochrane were the heroes of the game. The former's wonderful kicking was responsible for most of the Cadets' points and his defensive work was of the best. Cochrane, the diminutive quarter, did some spectacular tackling, and also got R. M. C.'s touch. Maynard and Campbell were battered up by the soldiers' wings and seldom got away. Varsity created a surprise by trotting out Gage, the disputed player, but no kick was made against his playing.

Although greatly outweighed the Cadets held their own in great style. Their tackling was glib and Varsity got very few large gains through the soldier's line. Varsity seemed to lack the steam that has characterized their play in former years.

R. M. C. won the toss and decided to play with the wind at their backs. Toronto kicked off to Barwis, who returned and Carr was downed on the first scrimmage. Varsity lost the ball for an off-side. Barwis, booted to Maynard, who was downed behind his line for the first point. Varsity scrimmaged and used big Gage as a battering ram, but the Cadets were there with the tackling and he didn't get very far. Varsity kicked to Macaulay, who returned to Maynard. Varsity failed to make their yards on three downs, and handed the ball over.

On the soldiers' first down Macaulay kicked over the dead line for a point. Varsity scrimmaged but didn't kick much in a buck through right field. In this play Stratford, R. M. C. was hurt and Stewart took his place. R. M. C. stole the ball. Brownfield kicked on the first down. Maynard fumbled, but Carr recovered and ran over the dead line. Varsity continued to do nothing, but back, Sinclair gained nothing, but Cassels got through for a big gain. Varsity kicked but Barwis was not given yards and it was brought back. Barwis kicked and Carr ran it back. R. M. C. secured a loose ball on Varsity's thirty-yard line and Brownfield kicked to Carr, who fumbled, but managed to dribble over dead line. R. M. C. had much the better of the play at this point and stole the ball continuously. Barwis tried a drop but failed, and Maynard ran the ball out. Varsity lost ball for interference, but Blackstock stole it back again. Campbell got away for a nice run around the end, but it was called back for off-side interference. Barwis kicked to Maynard who failed to carry it out and the first quarter ended with the score 6-0 for the Cadets.

Varsity, with the wind at their backs switched to the kicking game and McKenzie's long boots gave the R. M. C. backs a busy time. Barwis did some fine work running out punts, but finally McKenzie kicked over the dead line for Varsity's first point. Varsity tried some backs but had to kick on the third down. Brownfield caught well and ran for big gain, but dropped the ball and Varsity secured. McKenzie kicked over the dead line for another point. Maynard returned Barwis' kick but Barwis was not given yards and the ball was brought back. R. M. C. handed ball over for a nice run around the end. The R. M. C. backs fumbled badly, but generally recovered. Maynard kicked to Barwis, who ran it back 15 yards. R. M. C. gained nothing on two backs, and kicked. McKenzie booted and R. M. C. secured, but lost the ball on an off-side. McKenzie kicked to Brownfield, who caught but made a wretched pass to Barwis, who fumbled. Gage secured and went over for a try, which Maynard converted. The first half ended with the score 9-6 in favor of Varsity.

When Varsity lined up for the second half Schwaib was in the place of the ex-Parade man's ankle had given out. Varsity played a bucking game in this period. Schwaib, the giant Torontonians wear brauns out of style for most of the backs. Time after time he ploughed through for large gains. Varsity kicked and Barwis fumble was secured by a Varsity man. Reame was put off for rough work. The wind abated at this juncture putting both teams on an even footing. Carr secured a kick and ran 15 yards and Maynard kicked over the Cadet's dead line for a point. A few minutes later the Varsity captain fumbled behind his line but managed to recover and run out. Cassels went through for a good gain and passed to Maynard who got about 5 yards further. Schwaib got through for ten yards, and Knight was ahead through for five more. In this play Knight and Stewart were hurt but both continued. Varsity got right to R.M.C.'s line but lost the ball for an off-side. The whistle blew for three-quarter time with the Cadets in possession on their own line. Shortly after the fourth quarter started Maynard hurt his shoulder and had to retire, Lindsay taking his place. Varsity backed but lost the ball for interference and R.M.C. tried an off-side kick which Varsity secured. Barwis returned Lindsay's kick and Schwaib fumbled. Quick as a flash little Cochrane snatched the loose ball and eluding several tacklers ran from centre field for a try. Barwis' convert struck the post. The soldiers had the best of the play during this period. Schwaib got through for a nice gain but R.M.C. had to kick. Lindsay booted to Barwis who was forced to rouge. Barwis ran 30 yards through a broken field. Varsity intercepted a pass and secured and then ensued a kicking duel between Barwis and Lindsay, which the former had slightly the better of. R.M.C. tried an on side kick which worked and on next down Barwis kicked. Lindsay kicked the loose ball and Barwis got out but was thrown around and an on side kick back for a forced rouge. Both teams kicked at every opportunity and soon after Lindsay kicked a touch-in-goal. Schwaib got away for 20 yards but Varsity lost the ball. A passing run netted the Cadets a 30 yard gain. Barwis kicked a perfect field goal from a difficult angle, 30 yards out. It was the best play of the day and tied the score. Varsity returned to the bucking game and nearly scored but lost the ball for an off-side.

Varsity tried to get back on their feet but failed. Barwis kicked to Maynard, who was downed behind his line for the first point. Varsity scrimmaged but didn't kick much in a buck through right field. In this play Stratford, R. M. C. was hurt and Stewart took his place. R. M. C. stole the ball. That she hasn't to ping like me.
And autumn days have come.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Le May, the rangy youngster who held down one of the middle wing positions on Saturday, looks to be the find of the season. The way he tore through that Queen's line reminded one of the old days when Dan Gillmore, Mike Turnbull, and Bus Matheson used to tear 'em up.

Hazlett did not seem to relish the idea of Shag's presence on the sidelines, and made several strenuous objections. The Queen's captain evidently wanted to keep the score as low as possible. What?

Gray Masson and his brass-lunged noise-brigade made a big hit with the crowd. On several occasions the officers of the Rovers' Club were greeted with applause from across the field.

From a distance that "In My Harbinger" party, with the big drum working overtime, sounded like the preliminary canter of a streets of Cairo side-show. Needless to say, this part of the rosters' repertoire was very much appreciated.

Don Brophy put up the best exhibition of the centre-half game seen here for some time. The Ottawa youngster had all kinds of nerve and never made a mistake.

Chuck Waterous looked as if he were enjoying himself thoroughly, and every time the big fellow got the ball he cracked a grin about two feet wide. The joke, apparently, was on Queen's.

George Laing was up to his old tricks again, and showed that he has not forgotten the art of intercepting a pass. He brought the crowd to its feet when he grabbed Hazlett's throw and went over for a touchdown.

Bill Hughes showed all the ginger that characterized his play on the field last year. Whenever Bill started on one of his plunges through the line something was sure to go.

Buster Reid was in uniform, but Shag kept him out of the game on account of his late illness. The coach is evidently saving him for a time when he may really be needed.

Herb Woollett didn't take long to show what he had after he replaced Paisley. His thirty-yard run was one of the prettiest pieces of play during the afternoon.

Judge of Play Macdonald must have a system of his own for deciding which player has the ball. On one occasion he gave it to Queen's because one of the tricolor outfit had managed to place his hand on the oval, although a McGill player had it smothered.

There were few casualties considering that it was the first game of the season, and the players are not yet in perfect condition. What injuries occurred were mostly of a minor character.

That long stride of George Draper's gets him over the ground at express speed, and once he gets started it takes a fast man to catch him.

Brophy pulled off a sensational piece of work when he dived on that loose ball off "Pep" Paisley. It was a close thing between the McGill man and the Queen's wings, who were following down fast and would have gone over for a touchdown if Don had missed the piskin.

No one shed any tears over Varsity's defeat at the hands of the Cadets. The announcement of the quarter time score drew a round of cheers, while the scene in the dressing room when the final result was given out was one of wild delight.

If Jack Maynard's injury keeps him out of the game for the season it will weaken the Toronto outfit considerably. The boys in blue never seem to get going right unless their leader is on the field with them.

Barwis, the elongated Cadet half-back, evidently has the goods. His dropped goal and punt in the dying moments of the game put the soldiers football ability and brains. Buckley kicked and caught very well, besides running and passing to perfection. Fawcett and McCall who were playing the other two positions on the back division, were almost equally strong. McCall pulled off some nice end runs, and outside of a tendency to fumble put up a good game. Armour at quarter handled the team well and completely out-generaled the Queen's II. quarter back. Armour also played his inside kicks well and in this way helped his team immensely. Captain John Abbott at flying wing was always there when wanted and tackled well and strongly throughout the game.

The stars on the McGill line-up, however, were Pennock and Davies. The former was playing outside wing and to say that he did splendidly is only stating the case mildly. He was down under every kick and nothing got away from him. Davies, while very small, is a great little centre scrummager, being full of pep. He is very fast, as he demonstrated clearly when he chased and overtook a Queen's man who had broken away with a clear field ahead of him.

Martin and Cook were the two stars on the Queen's fourteen, but the whole team were so carefully watched that no man was really given a chance to distinguish himself.

The McGill team repeatedly showed the effects of McEwen's coaching, as they pulled off some snappy trick plays that were clearly the fruit of "Sinc's" wily brain.

The game was fairly clean, and a good crowd was out to lend their support. The game was a good one to watch on account of the spectacular runs that were pulled off.

The officials gave complete satisfaction to everybody, but the Queen's manager, who informed Sinc McEwen that he had forgotten more football than Sinc ever knew.

YALE AND PRINCETON TO MEET THIS FALL

Crews Will Meet in November—Yale Retains English Stroke

The Varsity crews of Yale and Princeton will race on Lake Carnegie, Princeton, in November. This is a decided innovation in college rowing circles and will be noted with interest all over the country. The purpose of the race is primarily to arouse interest among the crew squad during the most interesting part of the training season. Frequently some of the best candidates have not appeared before Christmas time, and it is thought that this plan will help to bring them out if they are not otherwise engaged.

The so-called English stroke will be continued by the Yale crew during the next year, and W. Averill Harriman, head coach last season, will again continue in that capacity, assisted by J. O. Rodgers, a former head coach.

in the lead, and set Varsity back considerably in the race for the silverware.

Pep Paisley was not catching as well on Saturday as usual, but outside of that his work was glib and efficient. He made several good tackles after the Queen's backs had got away and ran the ball back well. When he settles down Pep should make the railbirds sit up.

Montgomery did well at quarter although his work doesn't show the finish of his predecessor's. Monty's play was faultless, however, and with a little more experience will be able to show the way to any quarter-back in the league.

Hill, the speedy Queen's half-back, got away several times for big gains, and looks to be the best man the Presbyterian have unearthed for some time.

The Queen's outside wings were fast and could tackle well. Kennedy was the tricolor's best card in this department.

Hazlett has filled out considerably since last season and now tips the scales at one hundred and two. He doesn't seem to know how to use his acrobatics, however, as he lets the lighter men do the line plunging.

Brophy had it over Hazlett like a tent in the kicking, and had the Queen's backs chasing him continually to get under his long returns.

Jimmy Lee did well at centre scrummage, getting the ball out well and following down under kicks like a house afire. Once Jimmy gets his scrummage buck working, nothing in the Intercollegiate will be able to hold him.

The Red "M" in the rosters' section showed up well and will probably be a feature of all the home games. When the Rovers' Club cuts loose next Saturday the Blue Shirts will yearn for the peace and quiet of a Saturday night in Toronto.

Donnelly and Greene, McGill's two husky wing men, were out of the game on account of injuries. When they get back into the game that McGill line will be like a stone wall.

McGill wings were weak in tackling, especially when following down under kicks. Several times the Presbyterian backs got away for big gains and were only stopped by the McGill halves.

De Muth and Red MacLean were on their toes right through the piece, but are a trifle raw as yet. The former was unfortunate in getting a nasty cut over his right eye while making a tackle, but this should not keep him out of the game.

That McGill second team looks like one of the best-balanced aggregations that the Red and White has ever entered in the intermediate series. They had their running and passing plays cold.

John Abbott, who is captaining the intermediates this year, played one of the best games of his career on Saturday. Pennock was also there with the speed and tackling ability, and on his showing looks almost ripe for senior company.

Cochrane, the R. M. C. quarter, bids fair to become one of the season's sensations. His tackling on Saturday was the best seen on a Kingston field for many years.

Barwis' field goal in the last quarter was certainly a dandy. He was 30 yards out and at a difficult angle, but his kick went straight between the poles. He received a great ovation for his work.

Before the game on Saturday the Varsity men were giving two to one odds that they would win and even money that they would double the score. At half time all the money the Cadets' followers could get was at even.

Schwalm, the giant scrummager of the Varsity team, got through for some great gains. It took about four R. M. C. tacklers to bring him down.

At the conclusion of the game the R. M. C. Cadets rushed on the field and carried off their victorious mates shoulder high.

Varsity tried a lot of interference against R. M. C., but the officials had their eyes open and the Blue and White team lost several chances to score through this.

OTTAWA COMBINES DEFEATED TIGERS IN EXCITING GAME

Guard Starred For Winners in Close Contest in Capital

In a whirlwind finish, the Ottawa City-University team defeated Hamilton Tigers in the opening fixture of the Big Four on Saturday afternoon in the Capital City. With only a few minutes to play Gerard booted over the lead line with the winning point. The rain at that moment, a stiff breeze from the west whistling across the field, promising to make things decidedly interesting, close to eight thousand spectators in the grand stand, betting practically at even money.

There was no great rush to take money a few minutes before the game was called at 5 to 45 in favor of Ottawa. Bettors were none too eager and supporters of both sides seemed suspicious as to the outcome. The home aggregation hired a band to encourage the footers in the grand stand. The Tigers were the first on the field and were given a big reception. They lined up looking like a lot of "Jungle Kings" all right while a photographer snapped them. But the reception the Tigers received was a whisper compared with that given the home team. They too, had their pictures taken. Interest in the game was up to top notch. The line up was as follows:

Ottawa.
Belz.....Flying Wing.....Quilty
Manson.....Centre Back.....Becker
McKelvey.....Right Half.....Boucher
Dixon.....Quarterback.....Shelling
Young.....Scrimmage.....Sullivan
Neville.....Scrimmage.....Holly
Myers.....Scrimmage.....Emmerson
Wilson.....Inside Wing.....McLoughlin
Craig.....Inside Wing.....Vaughn
Clarke.....Middle Wing.....Black
Boucher.....Middle Wing.....Elliot
Glasford.....Outside Wing.....Gillan
Gatenby.....Outside Wing.....Ryan
Referee, Dr. Gordon; Judge of Play, Smilie Lawson.

Ottawa won the toss and chose to kick against the wind. At the opening play Hamilton went strong. Emmerson son kicked off and McKelvey returned. Hamilton got off side and Ottawa was 10 yards. Hamilton scored on a rouse. Elliott made a fine break through the Tigers line. The roosters roared mightily. Ottawa began to cop the Tigers wing battery. Holly made a touch down for Ottawa and Quilty converted. Ottawa 6, Tigers 1.

Gerard made a fifty-yard run. Elliott got possession and got away for another 15 yards. Shelling lost the ball and Mallet kicked.

Some splendid pieces of play were shown by both teams; on a half back pass Gerard ran the ball back twenty yards. The ball was kicked behind the Ottawa line, and Tigers scored a rouse.

End of the first quarter: Ottawas, 6; Tigers, 2.

THE SECOND QUARTER.

When the second quarter opened the ball was on the Ottawa's goal but Ottawa lost by fouling. Manson was downed for a rouse. Ottawas, 7, Tigers, 2.

Holly got hurt and had to be attended by Dr. Gordon. Quilty was run off for a dirty tackle. Becker received and kicked to Hamilton, 10 yard line. Mallet returned. The play was fairly evenly contested since the opening of the second quarter. Ottawa got possession on the Tigers 10 yard line. Becker got possession and kicked. Ottawa began to get the best of the play. Gerard kicked to the touch and the score jumped to Ottawas 8, Tigers 2. Gerard kicked to the touch line and Mallet got possession and made a 15 yard dash through Ottawa wing line all of which tried to down him, but failed and fell like nine pins.

Gerard again kicked behind the Tigers' goal line. Manson got possession and was forced to rouse. Ottawa 9, Tigers 2.

End of half time.

THE THIRD QUARTER.

When the third quarter began the wind had not dropped any but the prospect of a big game had been noticeably free from rough play. Smith replaced McKelvey at left half and Changnon took Dixon's place at quarter back. Stuart went middle wing and lester was sent to the flying wing position. No changes were made in the Ottawa line-up. The Tigers kicked with the wind. The ball went to the Ottawa five yard line. Boucher was forced to rouse and Tigers gained another point.

Ottawa, 9, Tigers, 3.

Some pretty passing was pulled off by the Tigers and the ball was rushed to the Ottawa 10 yard line. Tigers rushed the play to Ottawa line but lost the ball for failing to gain yards. Hamilton made a big spurt. Manson kicked to the dead line for another point. Ottawas 9, Tigers 4. Mallet kicked behind Ottawa line. Gerard went down for a rouse. Ottawas 9, Tigers 4. The game began to wax exceptionally hot. The outcome looked doubtful with favorable indications for Tigers.

Boucher fumbled and recovered. The next down was on Ottawa's five yard line. Manson made a great dash round the end for a touch down. He failed to convert. Ottawas 9, Tigers 10.

Tigers are now playing a great combination game after an anxious period round the Ottawa goal line. The Ottawas got possession and pushed the ball to Tigers 35 yard line. Third quarter over. Ottawas, 10; Ottawas, 9.

THE FOURTH QUARTER.

In the last quarter the Tigers continued to give Ottawa an anxious time. Smith was downed on his 25-yard line. Manson kicked out and McCann after a fine dash kicked to the Tigers 10-yard line. Becker got possession and kicked to the Tigers' deadline for another point. Ottawas 10, Tigers 10. Gerard kicked to the dead line and the score jumped in Ottawa's favor. The roosters roared mightily. Game over: Ottawas 11, Tigers 10.

Less Than Two Weeks Required
To Finish Present Repairs

After several days of suspense habitues of the Union may breathe freely once more and need have no fear of sudden precipitation out onto a hard Sherbrooke street pavement.

Some real results are beginning to show for the work being carried on. The excavating was finished on Saturday, the stone blocks were removed from the middle story and a heavy pin inserted in the hole. Then underneath this pin a brace, of goodly proportions, was placed with two jacks underneath its lower end. By merely screwing these jacks up the middle story can be eased up. It only remains to treat the bottom and top floors in like manner and then, a stronger foundation having been placed under the building, the scaffolding, and cranes will disappear and the place there shall know no more.

The canvas covers placed over the scaffolds give the Union a mysterious air and almost make matters look worse than they really are by arousing pictures of untold building errors in the minds of casual passers-by.

If work proceeds as rapidly from now on, the time required to repair the whole damage should be under the two weeks, stated by Mr. Thompson to be necessary.

In the half mile race there promises to be a merry battle, as no less than six men are running around the 2.03 mark and it is figured that the winner will have to travel in 2.06 on Thursday of this week. Porteous, Hughes, Hindy, with White of Guelph, are bound to make an interesting race, and there is not much to choose between any of the aspirants.

In the sprints there is Bill Brown, last year's intercollegiate champion. In the 100 yards, 220 or quarter, Brown is likely to clean up, as he has been making good time in all these events. The hammer throw is also likely to go his way. Of the other sprinters, Jeff Preston, Burns and McKough are performing well, and they should make change interesting in the interfaculty.

McKough and Richardson look to be the class for the high jump, and the winner of this event will likely break the record of five feet eight and a half inches. Spirited rivalry will also be shown in the hurdles as Joe Bricker, Richardson and Brown are doing great work under the direction of Cameron of the Central "Y."

The interfaculty meet will be held on Thursday of this week in order to make it possible for several Rugby men to enter the weight events. The intercollegiate follows eight days later, on October 24, in Kingston.

BLUE AND WHITE ARE READY FOR MEET

Varsity's chances look exceedingly bright in the intercollegiate athletic meet which will be held in Kingston, on October 24. The Varsity track men have been training faithfully for several weeks, and are now in the best of condition, and Coach Stafford of the West End Y.M.C.A. can see nothing but that a victory for the blue and white will result.

Hal Campbell the captain of the track team, is going well for the mile and three miles, and in the interfaculty will endeavor to break Mel Brock's record of 4.40. At the rate which he has been going, the present record will be bettered by at least ten seconds. The three-mile is calculated to go to Campbell, in both the interfaculty and the intercollegiate meets. Clarke is running well with him, and should be due to cop second place.

MAYNARD HURT

It has been reported that Maynard had his collar-bone broken in Saturday's game against R. M. C. When he was taken out of the game it was said that he had hurt his shoulder. If his collar-bone really is broken it will mean that the Varsity captain will be out of the game for the rest of the season.

ARGONAUTS DOUBLE THE SCORE ON THE M.A.A. IN TORONTO

First Big Four Game Was Played in Rain

Montreal proved an easy victim for the Argonauts in Toronto on Saturday. The Big Four champions started out with a rush and secured a safe lead on their opponents in the early stages of the match. Montreal worked hard to overcome Argonauts big lead but their efforts were in vain.

The weather man was unkind to the Toronto football fans who had been looking forward to the first of the Big Four league games on the local grounds. At about ten o'clock this morning a steady drizzling rain set in, which was still falling when the preliminary whistle was sounded.

At no time was it very heavy, but there was enough juice to make the surface of the field rather soggy. The footing was treacherous. Despite the rain and a strong west wind which blew across the field, the weather was warm. It was in the stands that the effect of the bad weather was most visible.

Not more than four hundred spectators were on hand at 3 o'clock, the time set for the opening of the battle. There was a preliminary game between Argo intermediates and Hamilton East End, which resulted in a win for the visitors by six to three.

The Montreal team arrived with a small body of supporters at 2.30. The rival managers announced their line-up as follows:

Argos. Position. Montreal
Duke.....Flying wing.....Scott
O'Connor.....Right half.....Baillie
Simons.....Quarterback.....Richard
Murray.....Outside wing.....Marshall
D. Burkart.....O. wing.....McConnachie
Gale.....Middle wing.....Jamieson
Savage.....Savage
Foster.....Inside wing.....Baker
McFarlane.....Scrimmage.....Roberts
Simpson.....Scrimmage.....Mingie
Jarvis.....Scrimmage.....McAllen
Botterill.....Scrimmage.....Baker

Argos started off, kicking with the wind. Montreal bucked and kicked to Brown, who returned over the line to Baillie who muffed, and was forced to rouse.

Argos 1, Montreal 0.

Tucker booted over the line to O'Connor who ran back to the Argo 4 yard line. Leslie kicked on the first down to Tucker, who was beautifully tackled by Murray of Montreal. He kicked to Gunter who ran back to the Montreal 10 yard line. Foster went over in the second down for the first touch-down, Leckie converted.

Argos 7, Montreal 0.

Montreal got possession at midfield and kicked. Argos blocked and Murray secured and passed to B. Burkart who took the ball to the Montreal 10 yard line. On the first down, O'Connor went over for touch on an on-side kick but was brought back for off-side.

Argo secured in Montreal's five yard line and went over on a scrimmage buck. O'Connor converted.

Argos 13, Montreal 0.

Argo secured at midfield for off-side on the kick-off. Argo forced Montreal back to their ten yard line by fierce tackling. Montreal kicked to O'Connor who muffed. Savage recovering. Gunter got a buck kick in the face and went down for the count.

Montreal secured at midfield and kicked on first down to Leckie, who returned out of touch. Baillie bored over to Leckie who muffed, Montreal getting a try. McSwenle taking the ball. Baillie converted. Argos, 13, Montreal 6.

ARGOS LOST YARDS.

During the half time rest, the rain increased greatly making the field very treacherous. Leckie retired in favor of Binkley for the last half. Leckie receiving a very serious injury in the leg. Duke was hurt, but continued after a short rest.

Binkley kicked over on first down to Bailey, but was forced to rouse.

Argo, 14; Montreal, 6.

Smith replaced Duke. Binkley kicked over dead line.

Argo, 15; Montreal, 6.

The field was so slippery by this time that every time a man went down he slid, as if on ice. Binkley's booting far over the Montreal half backs' heads was a feature at this stage. On a free kick Tucker went around Argo and on a fake kick for ten yards. Argos fumbling had being forced back to their 30-yard line.

Tucker kicked into touch and Argo secured on Montreal's 20-yard line. Argo failed to gain yards on bucking and Montreal got a loose ball on the third down. Binkley kicked over the dead line.

Three-quarter time, Argo, 16; Montreal, 6.

Tucker went off with a strained back. Lee replaced him. On two offside in succession the ball was brought up to Montreal's five yard line, and on the first down O'Connor went over for a touch-down. O'Connor converted. Argo, 23; Montreal, 6.

Murphy and McAllan were put off for scrapping. Murphy replaced Botterill at the beginning of the quarter. Montreal got the ball on Argo 40.

yards line for no yards. On the first down Tucker kicked to Gunter behind the line. Dean getting it for a touch down but failed to convert. Bill Jarvis blocking the kick. Argo 23, Montreal 11.

McConnachie was laid off with an injured hip. Play was around midfield. Honors being about even. The rain stopped and a cold wind blew. Most of the ginger has gone from the players. Argo forced Montreal back to their five yard line. Montreal booted to Symonds on the first down who was nailed in his tracks at midfield, the whistle blowing for full time.

Final score: Argo 23, Montreal 11.

HARRIERS TO MEET FOR OPENING RUN

Wednesday Afternoon First

Turnout—Article on Harrier Running

The McGill Harrier Club belongs to the Intercollegiate Harrier Union, with Toronto, Queen's and R. M. C. The Intercollegiate meet is to be held at McGill this year on November 8th.

On October 31st the club will hold its meet for the purpose of selecting a team to compete with the other clubs on November 8th.

The first run of the club is to be held this week, and the executive of this organization are expecting a large turnout. Below will be found an article on harrier running, written by one of the members of the club.

"Among athletic sports which do much to train the body and arouse the wits of a man stands cross-country running. The harrier runs not on a smooth path, but over rough and uneven places. His eye must be quick to choose one spot from another and finally he must have his muscles under perfect control in order that he might step safely on the spot he has chosen. Besides this the harrier must have endurance. He does not need any frills but he must have the firm sturdy frame and the grit of the old Greeks.

Few men will tell you that studying day after day is easy work. Only the hardest of constitutions can stand the strain even for a short while. The college student needs endurance, and because he needs it his first duty is to cultivate that endurance. He can rely on his study to his parents, to himself and to his college by getting himself into shape.

And one of the best ways to train oneself physically is cross country running. The man who strives after the strong body must undergo training. He should turn out and run short distances at first; gradually he can increase that distance. In so doing he will also increase his lung power, cleanse his system of all the useless waste material his sedentary life has heaped upon him, and have for his work the best of powerful muscle to show.

It is to meet this need that the Harrier Club of McGill strives to do today. The club has picked out a series of runs, the dates of which will be announced in the 'Daily'.

The first run will be held Wednesday afternoon, October 15. All harriers are strongly urged to get into shape for this and succeeding runs. Don't wait for the run, turn out and come in all lamed up. Get yourself into shape now.

The club calls for your support. Surely we can win the run on our own course."

R.V.C. TEAM ENTERS BASKET BALL LEAGUE

Games Will Start After Christmas — Unknown President Elected

The meeting of the representatives of the Athletic Societies of Macdonald College, Royal Victoria College, Westmount, and the teachers of the Protestant public schools, took place Saturday at the R.V.C. to discuss the feasibility of forming a basket ball league. Each society sent three members, those from Macdonald including the president of the Athletic Society, and the basket-ball manager.

The meeting was long, as there was much business to be arranged. The President of the R.V.C.A.A., who is yet to be elected) was voted president of the league, and Miss Simpson of Aberdeen, and Miss Moore of Macdonald were elected joint secretaries. The former was also appointed treasurer. As there is a probability of more teams joining the league no schedule could be made out but it was decided that the matches should not start till after Christmas.

A committee was formed consisting of the coaches of the teams. Miss S.

INTERCOLLEGIATE FOOTBALL

On Saturday the Intercollegiate football season opened with games here and in Kingston, and as far as can be judged at present, the league should see one of the most successful years in its history. Intercollegiate games are becoming more popular every year with both the student and city element, principally because of the superior football played by University teams.

Until about ten years ago, the general interest taken in football, was centred mainly in the games between teams representing the different cities, and comparatively little attention was paid to college games. Why this should have been the case is difficult to explain unless it was because most of the well-known stars were playing with the city teams. In nineteen hundred and five, the defeat of Ottawa at the hands of Casey Baldwin's champion Varsity team, awakened a new interest in the Intercollegiate game. From that time on this interest gradually increased, probably because of the successive defeats administered to the champions of other leagues by the Toronto University fourteen, and also because the general public began to realize that a faster, more scientific and cleaner game was to be seen on the grounds of the University teams than could be witnessed anywhere else in Canada.

The improvement of the game was due principally to the genius of Honorary Coach Griffith, of Toronto. Previous to his taking charge of the Varsity team, the system used for scoring points consisted of two bucks and a kick repeated from beginning to the end of a game. Once in a while some team, more daring than the others, would try an end run or a criss-cross play which usually resulted in a loss. It was only natural that both from the point of view of players and spectators, the game should have been an uninteresting performance. Griffith was the first man in Canada to develop a fast-scoring senior team using the open style of play. Previous to his taking charge of the Toronto University team, he had coached Ridley College, at which school he was a house-master. His success with them was phenomenal and, when he went to Toronto, by using the same system, developed what was for some years the strongest and trickiest aggregation in Canada. Griffith, apparently, calculated that by using fast, clever players who knew how to handle themselves and could tackle well, he could develop a system of open play in which brains and speed would count for more than mere weight and which besides being a fast-scoring game, would be a much better one to watch and more difficult to play. Thus originated the running and passing plays which have always been a feature of Varsity's game and which have been adopted of late years by almost every team in Canada.

The other university coaches were quick to realize the advantages that this style of play possessed over the old bucking and kicking game. Father Stanton, of Ottawa College, who had already done much work in the same direction was the first to take advantage of the lessons to be learned from watching the Toronto team in action, and soon developed a winning team using the open style of play. Queens and McGill, however, stuck to the old game for a few years, introducing from time to time new plays modeled on those in vogue at the other two universities. Both Queens and McGill were handicapped by the lack of competent coaches who could devote sufficient time to the work of building up a modern football machine. Graduates, who had formerly played on their senior teams turned out and did whatever lay in their power to help things along, but owing to other demands upon their time, could not compete with Toronto's Napoleon of the gridiron. In spite of this handicap, however, McGill usually ran second or third in the race for the championship, and in the opinion of competent critics, all that was needed to produce a winning combination was an expert coach who would make that work his business. Last year Frank Shaughnessy was secured and by handling the players properly, and introducing some innovations of his own invention, brought the championship to McGill and set a new standard of perfection for Intercollegiate football. Queens has not as yet taken any steps towards securing a permanent coach, but no doubt they will soon find that this is an absolute necessity if the Kingston team is ever to be a championship possibility.

The Interprovincial and other city organizations were somewhat slower to adopt modern football methods, and to this may be ascribed the proportionate difference in the interest taken in the two leagues now, as compared with that of a few years ago. The city teams, however, are gradually adopting the open game, and were it not for the fact that most of the men playing on the city teams learned the old game first, would be as proficient at modern football as are the university teams. To regain their former position the city teams must introduce younger men into their line-ups and eliminate the gradually increasing tendency towards professionalism which is very evident in many of the dickers over players that are going on continually. At present, the Intercollegiate seems to be drawing away from the other organizations and the time may not be far off when, as is now the case in the United States, only inter-university football will be played.

THE MCGILL ORIENTAL SOCIETY WILL MEET

Students of Eastern Civilization
Will Address Gatherings
During Winter

In an interview with the McGill Daily recently, Prof. Brodie Brockwell stated that the McGill Oriental Society expects a highly successful year. Arrangements are being made for a number of splendid lectures. As in past years, members of the society will be favored with lectures from men of no little repute in the field of oriental language and literature. "Last year the society was privileged to hear from men who had travelled extensively in the east. A meeting of the society will take place tomorrow night in the Macdonald Engineering building at 8:15. The purpose of the meeting will be to elect officers for the ensuing year. On this occasion also, a syllabus of the lectures that are to be given in the course of the winter, will be drawn up. The Oriental society meets twice a month during the course of the winter. Here, representatives of all schools of thought, irrespective of creed or race, congregate. Members are privileged to hear and discuss papers on every branch of ancient and modern Eastern civilization, including such subjects as history, religion, philosophy, jurisprudence, medicine, anthropology and economics.

HARD ON HAZERS AT ANN ARBOR

Prompt Expulsion Is The Penalty For Infractions

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 12.—In a special effort to prevent all hazing at the University of Michigan this fall, the Student Council has adopted the plan of expelling all men caught taking part in that kind of "sport."

"Every student caught in the act of hazing will be promptly expelled from the University," was the comment of one of the officers.

A special committee has been organized to deal with the problem. Plans for effecting the expulsion of hazing will be discussed at the first Student Council meeting of the year, when advice regarding all the inter-collegiate struggles in regard to hazing will be drawn up. Although other matters will be discussed at the meeting the hazing problem will receive the most attention, as it is determined to let no one plead the excuse of ignorance after being caught.

Ann Arbor, Oct. 12.—Several Sophomores braved the wrath of the Student Council last night on Liberty Street, by taking six Freshmen under control. Egg shampoos, paint and other conventional methods were freely used.

ATHLETICS WORLD'S CHAMPS.

The Philadelphia Athletics once again won the World's Championship when they defeated the New York Giants on Saturday. It is the fourth time in five years that Connie Mack's aggregation has won this coveted prize.

On the series they have outplayed the Giants at all points of the game, and have once again demonstrated the superiority of the American League.

The official box score of Saturday's game is as follows:

MEDICAL FRESHMEN WERE SORELY HURT

Sophs Ignored Them When Ready For Big Fight at Varsity

Toronto, Oct. 12.—Yesterday noon the medical Freshmen at Toronto University took time by the forelock and endeavored to persuade the Sophomores to indulge in a rush. It seems that at the Y.M.C.A. reception Dean Clarke told the Freshmen to be careful. Being glib, they invested $3.99 in face rouge, to say nothing of shoe polish, etc., and painted like warbling vireos advanced on the empty front campus at noon. The Sophs had had no lectures after ten o'clock and consequently were not around the college at all. This fact proved the Freshmen somewhat and after waiting until nearly one o'clock were sent home by Dr. McCullum to wash their faces.

The year executive appealed to Constable Christie for protection during the afternoon as they did not want their clothes spoiled.

Chief Christie called on the Soph executive and received their assurance that although the rush would take place soon, the Freshmen would be given fair warning.

A certain amount of repression is being brought to bear on the medicals, as a result of the School scrap, for the President has received a number of letters from townspeople protesting against the disgraceful appearance on the streets after indulging in a rush.

R.V.C. vs. MACDONALD IN TENNIS TOURNAMENT

First Game To Be Played a Week From Saturday

A tennis tournament is being arranged between Macdonald and the Royal Victoria Colleges. A representation of three from each college met on Saturday morning in the R.V.C. At this meeting it was decided that the match be held on Saturday, Oct. 25, at the R.V.C., beginning at 9:30, that the events consist of three singles and three doubles each to be two of one and three sets. Each event will count a point. The Macdonald team and coach will lunch at the R.V.C. and in the afternoon tea will be served at the R.V.C. athletic association. Friends from St. Anne's are cordially invited to attend the games. If the weather permits it is hoped that a return match will be played at Macdonald College on the following Saturday.

The second round of individual tennis must be played off by Oct. 15. The drawing is as follows:
M. Macdonald plays winner, M. Hay H. Pinner.
W. Wyatt plays J. Patterson-Smythe.
L. Griggs plays M. Longworth.
A. McCormick plays J. Story.
M. Cameron plays M. Spiers, E. Holland plays A. Younger.

HARVARD CO-OPERATIVE HAS PROSPEROUS YEAR

Early Figures Indicate Increase of Business—Addition Planned

Cam. Mass., Oct. 12.—The annual report of the Co-operative Society at Harvard has not yet been laid before the Directors (but the preliminary figures show that there has been a considerable increase in the amount of business, in profits and in membership, as compared with the year preceding. The total amount of sales in all departments of the store for the twelve months ending June 30 last, amounted to $418,274.10. The net profits will amount to about $24,000, so that it will be possible for the Directors to declare the usual nine per cent. dividend and still to have a surplus amounting to a few thousand dollars. The membership for the year amounted to 3,027 as against 2,844 members in the preceding year. Dividends will be paid as usual in November.

Some months ago the Co-operative Society purchased a tract of land near its present building, and it is expected that a large addition to the store will be begun before long. The Directors also have planned for the erection of a new front as the Co-operative store, and this new front will probably conform in general design to the Brattle Building which has recently been erected alongside.

Canadian Paper Concerns Over Capitalized

A representative of the International Paper Company says that Canadian concerns generally are capitalized at too high figures and that they will find that depreciation and exhaustion charges will need to be larger than they anticipate. After adding cost of transportation and taxes, Canadian paper companies, he declares, will hardly be in a position to undersell those of the United States, even with new paper on the free list. He looks for higher rather than lower prices and says the ability of Canadian concerns to undersell United States concerns has been over-estimated.

MCGILL DOWNS QUEEN'S TEAM

Kicking on third down when close to McGill's line. Bid shortly after this Hazlett got another chance to kick for a point and this time he took advantage of it. Hill followed up under the kick and forced Paisley to rouge.

McGill 12, Queen's 1.

First Quarter Over.

Shaughnessy was ordered off the field by Dan Gilmour at this stage of the game. Chuck Waterous was out for a few minutes. He has been used in nearly every play. Hill received a pass from Hazlett and ran fifty yards. Brophy being the only man left to stop him and he tackled him beautifully. Lewis tried a drop and Brophy made a good attempt to run it out but was forced to rouge.

McGill 12, Queen's 2.

George Laing ran thirty yards from the kick-out play. Play alternated from one side of the field to the other, some brilliant work being pulled off on either side. At last George Laing intercepted a pass from Hazlett to Hill and ran down a clear field for McGill's third touchdown, which Brophy converted.

McGill 18, Queen's 2.

Lemay made a pretty play shortly after this, going through Queen's line for thirty yards, almost to the line. Monty smashed over for fourth touchdown, which Don again converted.

McGill 28, Queen's 2.

McGill gained ten yards twice on backs by Lemay, Ross and Jimmy Lee. Hazlett was hurt, as a result of a tackle by Laing, Jeffrey and Waterous.

Half Time.

McGill 29, Queen's 2.

Gendron replaced Jeffrey and soon after play started caught one of Hazlett's on-side kicks. George Laing took some of Monty's on-side kicks and ran across Queen's line for his second touchdown which Brophy converted from a very difficult angle.

McGill 31, Queen's 2.

McGill gained thirty yards on the kick-off by Brophy returning a long punt. Laing gained yards through Queen's line as did Hughes shortly afterwards. DeMuth received first penalty of season being put off for five minutes at this stage of the game. Monty tried on-side kick which rolled to dead line.

McGill 31, Queen's 2.

Ross was hurt but continued. Lemay blocked Hazlett's kick with his face. Lewis was hurt and carried off. Watts came on. Lemay was playing a great game at this point in contest. Brophy kicked from centre for a rouge.

McGill 32, Queen's 2.

George Laing intercepted another pass but was called back for off-side. Lemay was right on the correct spot every time. Brophy who was kicking splendidly at this stage of the game, printed from centre for a rouge.

McGill 33, Queen's 2.

Hill tore off a beautiful run shortly after the start of play. DeMuth was hurt and Dave Williamson went on. N. Williamson and Rodden were ruled off for five minutes each. Lemay made another nice run.

Third Quarter Over.

Almost immediately after the game was started again Hughes smashed over for another touch. Don failed to convert.

McGill 38, Queen's 2.

George Draper and George Laing pulled off some good plays. Fake buck gave latter a chance for fifty yard run for his third touchdown which was not converted.

McGill 43, Queen's 2.

Paisley was hurt and replaced by Woollett who almost at once made thirty yard run. Ross ruled off for game for trying to talk back to Dan Gilmour. Dave Williamson also ruled off for arguing. Chuck Waterous off also. McGill played three men short but Queen's could not do anything as they insisted on kicking. Lemay shot over Queen's line for touchdown, which Don converted.

McGill 49, Queen's 2.

No more scoring was done and the game ended with the ball in centre field.

McGill (49). The teams, Queen's (2). N. Williamson, P. Wing, McCartney, Paisley, R. Half, Lewis, Brophy, C. Half, Hazlett, Draper, L. Half, P.
